

FUNCTIONAL SKILLS SCREENING INVENTORY: Individual Edition – 17 point scoring scale
(Copy this page for the Reporter to use when assessing the individual)

- 0 points (0%) means that the person never does this, no matter what efforts are made. The person does not participate or perform any part of this activity.
- .25 points means that there is minimal, passive tolerance of the activity and total guidance is required by someone else.
- .50 points means that the individual is starting to be part of the activity beyond passive tolerance.
- .75 points means that the individual is involved in the activity even though instruction and supervision are required to complete even part of this task.
- 1 point (25%) means that the individual will comply to supervised completion of the task but does not initiate or complete any part of the task independently.
- 1.25 points means that the person is doing minimal compliance of the performance of a task and may indicate through behavior (resistance or acceptance) that the person knows the task and the sequence is being done.
- 1.50 points means that the person is complying with the sequence of the task but still requires instruction, supervision, and total monitoring of each step.
- 1.75 points means that the person is complying with performance of the task but still is dependent on others to start, do, stop and is still a passive participant even through aware of the task.
- 2 points (50%) mean that the person will complete the task with lots of supervision about half the time.
- 2.25 points means that the person will participate with minimal involvement which still requires supervision, support, and monitoring of each step
- 2.50 points means that the person requires supervision but is starting to anticipate steps in the procedure or indicates by behavior that the procedure is happening.
- 2.75 points means that the person still requires some supervision but is aware of the task, may even show interest in some parts of the task and participate while still needing extensive prompting and monitoring
- 3 points (75%) mean that the person does the task inconsistently with some prompting.
- 3.25 points means that the person does the task inconsistently, requires some prompting, and is also signaling that the event is happening and seems aware of the sequence or steps.
- 3.50 points means that the person still requires some prompting but is beginning to initiate by signaling participation and showing some active involvement in the steps.
- 3.75 points means that there is inconsistent participation and some reminding may be needed at times but the individual is emerging as being able to do the tasks with few prompts.
- 4 points (100%) mean that the individual does the task independently without prompting.